

Barred Owl Release

Another Successful Release

The Clearwater Sanctuary released a Barred Owl at dusk on Sunday, March 4th. It was a beautiful evening. The owl was set free at Lake Emfred in Tchefuncta Country Club.

Brenda and Marshall Geier, Nancy Torcson, Margaret, Emile and Armand deLaureal and Christine Babylon were on hand for the release. The owl immediately flew up into a tree. We spotted another Barred Owl after being there for just a couple of minutes. It was a perfect spot to free our rehabilitated friend.

Clearwater Sanctuary is one of the largest wild animal rehab centers. Each year the Sanctuary Handles approximately 10,000 calls and treats as many as 2,500 animals. The Sanctuary takes referrals from the Audubon Zoo, Humane Societies, veterinarians, and nature centers.
